Introduction

Last night when I headed to bed I started dreaming about the thing I love most and I went deep and deep into it. You know why I was dreaming, because it helps me a lot to divert my mind and take me to the new universe, of which I am the creator. While dreaming, whatever I see is made by my mind, I have the right to change and whatever I want I can do over there. I am the god of that unknown planet or universe which is not physically existent but yes it is definitely better than this earth.*

Sometimes those dreams trouble me when I see something negative about myself and sometimes it makes my mind healthy or happy when I see something which is more than my domain. I think this is the usual thing that happens with everyone who dreams.

Next morning when I stood up and went to the bathroom and when I tried to remember what I had dreamed last night I realised then that I had forgotten what I had dreamed. I tried so hard to remember it but my mind didn't work. You know why it happens, I think this is the usual thing that happens with every author. Every time, every instant authors try hard to imagine things or plot and when there are too much of stories or concepts within the mind then it becomes complex so that every author loses some of the themes that they had created.

I know you are in trouble now regarding what I said and why I wrote all those lines above, but yes these things are related with this book and because of all these stuffs I started this anthology.

There are four words: Determination, Love, Motivation and Dedication. If you see these just as words of literature then you can't conclude too much about it but when you go deeper into it then you will realise the meaning of these four words. Whatever I am today, funny, cranky or anything else all credit goes to these words. It helps me a lot every time, whenever I am happy, sad or in trouble.

Whenever anyone helps us in our critical moment or time then we become a devotee of that person because he or she helped us. Same thing these four words did with me that is why I want to express my gratitude to these words by plotting it into the theme of these book, which I started.

These words are like the mirror for me, who gave me a chance to show myself as a writer after a lot of failure that I had faced earlier.

Love is the most important word associated with every soul because it starts with the day when you were born into this world and for some people* it is love to achievement and for some achievement to love.

Determination is the word which helps you to find yourself that what I am? If you are bought up for Engineer then there is no need of going anywhere else. Determination gives us strength to face difficulties and achieve a lot, it defines yourself with great magnitude.

Dedication is the third word which helps us to work in our field with honesty. Everything is not perfect but yes if we decide to make it perfect then definitely one day it will become beautiful. Dasrath Manjhi is the great example of it; every one said that it is impossible to cut the mountain and make the road but he decided to make it without thinking about anything that would happen if he fails. He dedicated himself and the result we have seen today.

Motivation Sometimes when we suffer from failure then we start thinking negative and it harms us and we think low, at that time we need someone who supports us and judge our self whether we have the potential to do it, it is called the motivation. If someone tries to de-motivate you then don't think low, be gentle and make their words your motivation to achieve a lot in life to show them.

Many states I have travelled and resided, and loved the journey of my life which comes into its right track now. When I sat alone in the window seat of train then saw outside the awesome world which helped me a lot to give themes and motivation. While wandering, sometimes I plot story
